American Red Cross Receives $20,000 Donation from PRA

Funds will help support disaster relief operations nationwide

(Norfolk, Virginia - May 14, 2013) The American Red Cross Eastern Virginia Region has received a $20,000 donation from Norfolk, Va.-based Portfolio Recovery Associates, Inc. (PRA), a financial and business services company operating in the U.S. and U.K., to support nationwide disaster relief operations.

Charlie Nusbaum, chapter board chairman for the American Red Cross of Southeastern Virginia, commented, "PRA has a culture of community service and a strong background in supporting the Red Cross. The company has helped us with disaster response through previous financial donations, and has also contributed funds to help us educate the community on disaster preparedness in advance of hurricane season. That's our idea of a great corporate partner."

Kevin Stevenson, executive vice president and chief financial and administrative officer for PRA, and board member of the American Red Cross of Southeastern Virginia, said, "Every year, people who have been affected by disasters look to the Red Cross for help. On behalf of our 3,000 employees across the U.S. in more than a dozen states, we are committed to doing our part to support the Red Cross in its continuing mission of disaster preparedness and relief."

Last year, PRA donated $20,000 to the American Red Cross to help victims of the tornadoes that affected Birmingham, Ala., and to support Red Cross disaster relief in Hampton Roads. The company has donated more than $190,000 to the American Red Cross since 2004.

PRA and the American Red Cross also co-sponsored 30 billboards in the Hampton Roads area last summer featuring the "Be Red Cross Ready" message to remind families in Hampton Roads to prepare for hurricane season.

"Corporate partnerships play a significant role in making Red Cross disaster relief possible throughout the nation and around the world," said Nusbaum. "We appreciate this contribution from PRA, as well as its confidence in the American Red Cross to deliver hope and help wherever and whenever the need arises."

About the American Red Cross:
